Health Reference Series

Available Online This Fall!

Beginning this fall, schools and libraries that purchase any Health Reference Series print volume will automatically have access to the same high value content online FOR FREE.

At launch, patrons and students can access this valued resource however and whenever they want it. With online delivery, you will enjoy:

- Unlimited users at up to two library locations
- Remote access from anywhere at any time
- Individual user accounts for patrons and students
- Clean, intuitive interface
- Powerful natural-language search
- Handy researcher tools including citation generation

For no extra cost beyond the initial print purchase, libraries and schools can build their own online health resource tailored to their community's needs. Buy only the volumes you want, and, unlike many subscription databases, don't pay for content you don't need. You're in control!

Easy as 1-2-3

To access your Health Reference Series database online you will simply

1. Purchase any Health Reference Series volume.
2. Receive a unique activation code via email and in your print copy.
3. Log on, input your code, and enjoy your content online!

No subscription. No activation fee. Buy Health Reference Series print volumes at the price you always have and receive complimentary access to the same content online for as long as that edition is in print.

Have Volumes Now? Or Plan to Purchase Soon? Your Content Will Be Waiting for You in the Fall!

ALL customers who purchased volumes published in 2015 and going forward will have that same content ready for them to access at launch for free. Same goes for anyone who purchases volumes between now and launch. Any volume you purchase now will be ready and waiting online for you!
